

Aeromedical Aspects of Civilian Evacuations: Preparation, Reaction, and Response

Sponsored by The International Academy of Aviation and Space Medicine (IAASM)

March 9, 2022, 9:00 am – 12:00 pm, CST (1600-1900 UTC)

Topics:

- History and Framework of Aeromedical Evacuation
- Civilian Aeromedical Evacuation in Ecuador, 1996
- International Perspective on Civilian Evacuations
- Civilian Aeromedical Evacuation in the Private Sector
- Civilian Aeromedical Evacuation in Afghanistan, 2021
- Civilian Aeromedical Evacuations Going Forward

Featuring:

- James Vanderploeg, MD, MPH, President, IAASM
- Robert Orford, MD, MS, MPH, Scientific Co-chair and Moderator
- Annette Sobel, MD, MS, Major General, USAFR (ret'd)
- James A. King, MD, Col, USAF (Ret'd)
- Ian Mollan, MB ChB, Wg Cdr, RAF
- Geoff Tothill, MB ChB, Medical Director, IMG
- Kent Vanderploeg
- Courtney Hayes, MD, Col, US Army

Who should attend:

- Aerospace, Occupational Health, and Emergency Physicians, NPs, RNs PAs, EMTs, Psychologists, Disaster Planners, and other allied Health professionals involved or interested in aeromedical evacuation